

Welcome to 6911 Norfolk Road, Berkeley 94705. Amid mature redwoods on a private cul-de-sac at 1100' elevation, the microclimate is sunny and the air is fresh. An east-facing hillside offers canyon views, morning sun, and afternoon shade.

One half story above the entry, a first floor landing leads to the dining room. Scaled for gracious entertaining, it includes a granite wet bar, granite buffet, and two built-in china cabinets. On the ceiling, the distinctive box beams are functional.

The box beams extend to a sunken living room, whose tall doors open to a balcony. Visible at left is a hearth fronting one of two marble fireplaces. At top right, the open door leads to a powder room.

The cook's kitchen features slab granite counters and splashes, double ovens, a convection microwave, and a gas cooktop and grill. The sunny eat-in area seats six. A pantry and laundry area remain out of view to the left and right.

Two half stairs lead to the top floor, which includes the master suite, three additional bedrooms, and the hall bath. All are accessed from a great room with a 10' coffered ceiling and a custom mantel above the second fireplace.

Canyon views are shared by the great room, far bedroom, and master bedroom. The master suite includes a 9' marble vanity, marble floor, closeted commode, oversized shower, jetted tub, walk-in closet, and a second linen closet.

In the far, middle, and corner bedrooms (clockwise), lighted double closets include custom shelves and poles, which are provided throughout. Skylights illuminate the hall bath and the master and middle bedrooms.

The corner bedroom ceiling encloses a whole-house fan and a pull-down stair leading to generous attic storage. A panel in the middle bedroom accesses wiring for the alarm system, high-fidelity audio, cable, telephone, and high-speed LAN.
